England Joins With France In Armament Limitation

MOVE MADE TO CURTAIL WAR BUDGET

ORD CUSHENDUN AVERS PLAN IS NOT IDEAL BUT STEP IN RIGHT DIRECTION

BIBSON IS OPPOSED

S. DELEGATE SEEKS DIRECT LIMITATION OF BUDGETARY MATERIAL

ENEVA, May 3.—(UP)—England joined France today in urging limitation of war material by curbing the budget appropriations of the powers for that purpose, but the United States refused to withdraw its opposition to the proposal.

Lord Cushendun of England intimated that direct limitation of war material would be impossible without a system of international control which he held unacceptable.

The essential task of this mission," Lord Cushendun said, "is to find the greatest degree of agreement on what can be done towards disarmament. On the limitation of war material, two thirds have been urged, one by direct limitation and one by budgetary limitation. It is evident that direct limitation is the obvious ideal method, but that it cannot be applied without some system of international control. I wonder what my friend Gibson, who urged this system, would think of an international commission being sent into the United States to investigate armaments. I venture to say it would not be permitted and I say the same thing for England. Hence, with these two great obstacles, refusing international control, a direct system of limitation of war material becomes impossible.

Therefore the French proposal of budgetary limitation seems to be a better possibility. While ideal, it is a step in the right direction."

Hugh S. Gibson, of the United States, announced that it was impossible to alter the United States' preference for direct instead of budgetary limitation, although he declared the willingness of France to seek other than a budgetary limitation.

Studio Claims Popping Cork Has Own Sound

HOLLYWOOD, May 3.—(UP)—There is no sound substitute for the popping cork of a newly opened champagne bottle, the United Artists studio here told the federal prohibition headquarters in Washington today.

The studio wired the department requesting permission to purchase two cases of the beverage to be used in sound sequences of the film, "The Locked Door," now in production.

"The public demand for realism in pictures makes this request an urgent one," the message read. "Cider formerly used in silent pictures as a substitute for champagne gives an unnatural effect when uncorked."

RIOTS BREAK OUT AGAIN IN BERLIN CITY

Two Women Shot and Believed Killed—Use Plane To Find Snipers

BERLIN, May 3.—(UP)—Fatal rioting broke out again in the Neukolln district of southeast Berlin this afternoon, despite the proclamation of a state of siege and the presence of a powerful force of policemen.

Two women were shot and were believed to have been killed. Three workers went on strike in protest against the shooting of the three subway laborers.

Police were using airplanes to find the position of snipers who were firing on the officers from roof tops.

SCHOOL BILLS ARE TAKEN UP BY LAWMAKERS

Committee Action Reported on Three Major Measures This Morning

SACRAMENTO, May 3.—(UP)—The state legislature today turned to the consideration of educational problems, with committee action reported on three major measures.

They were: Establishment of four-year colleges in school districts with an average attendance of 14,000. This bill, by Senator J. M. Inman of Sacramento, was vigorously opposed by the University of California, and was killed by the senate education committee.

School budget publication bill by Senator E. A. Mueller, San Diego, and sponsored by the California Newspaper Publishers' association. It would require annual publication by school districts of their school budget and financial statements in the local newspaper. The bill received unanimous endorsement of the education committee.

Tuition for pupils attending airplane courses in high schools, proposed under a measure by Senator Tallant Tubbs, San Francisco, approved by the education committee.

Senator Inman's proposal was designed to expand the Sacramento junior college from a two-year into a four-year institution, but its opponents pointed out that it would have granted the same privilege to any other school district in the state meeting requirements of the bill.

Civic Leader Of La Habra Killed By Car

W. L. York, Widely Known Rancher, Walks in Path Of Auto in Fullerton

W. L. YORK, 64, widely known La Habra rancher, church worker and civic leader, suffered fatal injuries in Fullerton last night, when he was struck by a car driven by Sol Greenbaum, of the Alexandria hotel, Los Angeles.

York was rushed to the Fullerton general hospital, where he died three hours later. He suffered fractures of the skull and collarbone.

Coroner Charles Brown will hold an inquest into the La Habra rancher's death Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the McAulay and Sutters parlors in Fullerton.

According to a report made by Greenbaum, York started across Spadra street near Roslyn street. Lights of cars seemed to blind him and he started to retrace his steps, walking directly into the path of the Greenbaum machine. It was said.

York had parked his car near the corner and was on his way to secure ice cream for Mrs. York when the accident happened.

MRS. KENNEDY FILES ANSWER TO CLARK SUIT

Mother of Aimee Denies in Full All Charges Made By Minister

SEATTLE, Wash., May 3.—(UP)—Mrs. Minnie "Ma" Kennedy, true to her sex, had the last word today in her effort to quiet the Rev. H. H. Clark, Seattle minister, and end his $50,000 breach of promise suit against her.

"Ma" hoped that the superior court would dismiss the Rev. Mr. Clark's complaint on the strength of her brilliant answer in which she denied charges of improper conduct, love trysts and broken marriage proposal.

She had little to add to the lengthy document which her attorney filed in which she said the elderly minister tried to extort money from her and her daughter, Aimee Semple McPherson.

"Ma's" answer was at variance with his explanation of how their asserted December romance started. The Rev. Mr. Clark contended in his suit that "Ma" struck up an acquaintance with him in a dark corner of a 15-cent Fourth Avenue motion picture house.

"Ma" however, told an entirely different story. She said the Rev. Mr. Clark approached her in a Seattle cafeteria and told her how much he had enjoyed her preaching in Denver a few years previous.

Fever Of 112 Degrees In Child Drops

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—(UP)—The fever of 112 degrees which 9-year-old Rose Lombardi had apparently survived here today will be only a terrible memory to her but to physicians of the world it has been received as one of the most amazing cases of science.

The temperature of Little Rose continued to drop today and it had been reduced below the 104 mark.

But during the most critical stage of her illness the fever could not be recorded on an ordinary Fahrenheit thermometer, which is graduated only to 110, and the additional two points were noted on a Centigrade instrument.

CALIFORNIA TO PREVENT FRUIT FLY INVASION

$100,000 Emergency Appropriation Approved By Finance Body

SACRAMENTO, May 3.—(UP)—California's campaign to prevent the invasion of the menacing Mediterranean fruit fly discovered in Florida was given added impetus today with the approval of a $100,000 emergency appropriation by the state senate finance committee.

Many Injured In Storms In Five States

Property Damage in Southern Part of Nation Is Extremely High

GATE CITY, Va., May 3.—(UP)—Fifteen dead and upwards of 100 injured, many seriously, was the toll counted today as a result of the wrecking of the Rye Cove consolidated school by a twister yesterday.

The injured were being cared for in hospitals at Kingsport and Bristol, Tenn., and at Clinchport, Va., near where they were taken on special trains after the disaster.

The death list in Virginia, Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama and Florida stood at 20, while the injured was placed at upward of 150. Property damage was extensive.

The Rye Cove catastrophe came shortly before one o'clock when 125 students and teachers were in the two story frame building. Of this number, few, if any escaped death or injury of some sort.

The eight room school was attended by children from a radius of 10 miles around in the picturesque mountain valley. The building, struck with sudden and shattering force, collapsed in a twinkling as the roof was torn away.

UNABLE TO MAKE MOVE

Six Day Session Proves to Be of Little Avail When Neither Side Gives In TO MEET SATURDAY

Senate Continues Deliberations on Farm Bill As House Quits for Week

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(UP)—A deadlock on the Mellon case was reached in the senate judiciary committee today when it held its sixth day session and found it was unable to agree on anything, including the manner in which the committee should proceed.

Two developments of the executive session leaked out. Friends of Secretary of Treasury Mellon presented evidence to show nearly every secretary of treasury since Alexander Hamilton held corporate stocks, arguing that therefore the committee had no cause to proceed against Mellon under the old statute requiring that treasury secretaries have no direct or indirect interest in trade or commerce.

Senator Hastings, Republican, Delaware, a new comer to the senate, questioned the propriety of members of the committee divulging the deposition given by Mellon in a civil suit involving the Aluminum Company of America. Release of the deposition was defended by other committee members who said they saw no reason for keeping it secret. The deposition tended to show Mellon's off-office connections with the Aluminum company.

The suggestion that Mellon be invited to appear before the committee to explain some indefinite points in the deposition occupied the remainder of the session. Mellon's friends took the position the committee was not empowered to go into the evidence and must confine its deliberations to the legal question of Mellon's right to his office.

BOYS BLAMED FOR FIRE IN ARIZONA

LOWELL, Ariz., May 3.—(UP)—A fire believed to have been started by boys burned property valued at approximately $50,000, resulted in the injury of a Hampering, 19, before firemen succeeded in extinguishing the blaze late yesterday.

The Federation asked the commission to rescind its authorization of the abandonment.

The line has been operated for more than 50 years and is giving service essential to development of the territory served, the petition said.

LOS ANGELES, May 3.—(UP)—Attorneys for Asa Keyes said today they would go to the appellate court in an attempt to get a writ of habeas corpus for the release of the former district attorney from the county jail, where he now is held pending a decision on his appeal to conviction on conspiracy bribery charges.

A motion for Keyes' release on the ground that his health and life were endangered by confinement was denied late yesterday by Superior Judge Hartley Shaw after five physicians testified to Keyes' condition.

SHOULD LADIES SHOW KNEES ON WAIKIKI SAND?

HONOLULU, T. H., May 3.—Just how far this "color line" should go when it comes to bathing is the question which the Honolulu sheriff's office is trying to decide in an equitable fashion.

The color line refers to the boundary of the brown sun-tanned skin acquired by long exposure on Waikiki Beach and the pale white skin that is protected by the bathing suit. If any tan skins on this mid-Pacific isle are the vogue, and the idea of the more-tan-the-better seems to be spreading, according to the sheriff's office.

Just how much of one's skin can be exposed for the sun-bath in public without being guilty of indecent exposure is the problem.

The official stamp of approval has been placed on swimming trunks for men and women's bathing suits with backs cut down to the waist.

are okeh, too, in the official opinion, when confined to the beach.

So is the custom of some of the beach flippers, who took to eliminate the two bleached strips over their shoulders which show up so badly in formal gowns in the evening, when they unloose the shoulder straps.

But the fact remains that some men wear tight shorts, briefs, and some of the ladies are poor judges of where to call a halt, and the sheriff's office has received complaints in sufficient number to sound a warning.

In the first place, it is announced the Desha law is going to be strictly enforced.

This law makes it a misdemeanor to appear in the streets in bathing suits, trunks, or otherwise, and sets forth that bathers must be equipped with "an outer garment reaching at least to the knees."

Violation is punishable by a fine of not more than $50.

LONDON, May 3.—A great quantity of rat poison, liberally used at the hangar of the R 100, said to be the world's largest airship, saved the air vehicle from destruction recently. The rats infested the hangar and it was feared that they might damage the canvas of the airship's air bag. The airship was moved from the hangar while the poison worked on the rodents.

WOMAN HEALS POISON SNAKE BITES, CLAIM

MOSCOW, May 3. — (UP)—A woman who apparently possesses the mysterious power of healing the most poisonous snake bites has become the center of a heated dispute in the medical world of Soviet Armenia.

A well-known Russian journalist Marietta Shaginyan, has just investigated the phenomenon and her report in one of the leading Moscow periodicals has drawn the question into national prominence. "Djavayir the Snake-Woman," since her arrival in Armenia from her native land, Persia, has won wide fame and a large practice, poisoning vipers being common throughout the country. Apparently no one—not even the doctors who are attempting to suppress her activities—denies that she has saved many lives through the strange power.

Soviet medical men are carrying on a relentless war against superstition as embodied in "witch doctors" of all sorts, who still flourish in the more backward regions. Mme. Djavayir clearly seems to belong in this category, and particularly because of her popularity makes a convenient target for attacks.

On the other hand, her actual cures stand as an answer to charges of witchcraft. Dozens of grateful patients testify to the genuineness of her claims. A section of the medical world therefore argues that rather than persecute her, doctors should endow her and use her.

Mme. Djavayir's "treatments" take the delicate but effective form of spitting on the wound and covering the saliva with a leaf. Soon the leaf begins to change color, seemingly absorbing the poison as it is drawn out by the saliva.

The snake-woman herself is entirely immune to snake bites. Her house is crowded with snakes of all varieties and she permits her year-old daughter to play with poisonous vipers. It is supposed that her saliva possesses some chemical power to draw out poisons.

RAMSEY FILES THREE PLEAS OF NOT GUILTY

Brady Ramsey, 26, of Long Beach, who already had pleaded not guilty to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder, entered not guilty pleas today to three more charges when he was arraigned in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court on information filed by Deputy District Attorney S. B. Kaufman.

At the same time, today, Ramsey's companion, Leslie Magnusson, failed to appear in court to answer to a charge of escaping an officer. The two men are asserted to have attacked Chief Criminal Deputy Sheriff F. W. Howard when he arrested them recently in connection with a raid on a still. Judge Allen issued a bench warrant for the appearance of Magnusson.

The charges to which Ramsey pleaded not guilty today through his attorney, O. A. Jacobs, of Santa Ana, were those of escaping an officer, robbery and operation of a still. He will be tried on all the charges on May 23.

Vicious Rooster In Last Attack

Oil for Costa Mesa

Many of the well-informed oil men have already purchased large acreage and have paid cash for it. Several five-acre parcels have been bought at $10,000 cash. The Shire Oil Co. own in fee simple 100 acres. The Standard Oil Co. has 100 acres, the Western Co. has 1000, Jordan & Maney associates (the Costa Mesa Petroleum Co.) are now drilling their property. Cash rentals are under lease are being made. A greater portion of the area is already under lease. Many have been offered opportunities to join in oil profits and have refused, while their friends who ventured have gained independence, some from a single lot. They are now offering another opportunity for big money at a very low risk. If it is good enough for the big oil companies it ought to be good enough for you. Costa Mesa has had oil production for years at 700 feet and the records California oil history show that there is shallow oil, more and higher grade oil is invariably found at greater depths. The deep tests now being made in the hills are proving this, as Costa Mesa promises to be the big oil field.

Oil for Costa Mesa

We were lucky to find a piece of acreage free of oil lease, which are subdividing into 25 lots 150 in size. They are worth money, oil or no oil, but the chance for oil is big. Preopening prices only $725, $350 down and $20 per month. Taxes paid. Incumbrances.

Come out to the tract, come to Victoria and Placentia streets out 2000 feet north of the deep well. At the request of several we will have tract salesman on the grounds, as well as at the office on Newport boulevard at upper street. Look for the flags.

Oil for Costa Mesa

Many of the well-informed oil men have already purchased large acreage and have paid cash for it. Several five-acre parcels have been bought at $10,000 cash. The Shire Oil Co. own in fee simple 100 acres. The Standard Oil Co. has 100 acres, the Western Co. has 1000, Jordan & Maney associates (the Costa Mesa Petroleum Co.) are now drilling their property. Cash rentals are under lease are being made. A greater portion of the area is already under lease. Many have been offered opportunities to join in oil profits and have refused, while their friends who ventured have gained independence, some from a single lot. ## NINE SPRINTERS CREDITED WITH 93-5 CENTURY

By WILLIAM J. DUNN (United Press Staff Correspondent) NEW YORK, May 3.—If nine men can run 100 yards in 93-5 seconds it is only logical to assume that one of the nine, under favorable conditions, can better the mark, at least by a tenth of a second.

This argument will be placed before the next meeting of the International Amateur Athletic federation, the body that puts the stamp of official recognition on world track and field records.

Last summer the federation met during the Olympic Games to consider applications for records. At that time a mark of 93-5 seconds, made by Charles Paddock under championship conditions, was placed before them for their approval. The approval was denied under the assumption that a watch, timed to tenths of a second, might not be infallible. As a result the record book shows five men as official record holders while Paddock is recognized as having equalled the 93-5 mark six times.

The other joint holders, officially, are D. J. Kelly, H. P. Drew, and Chester Bowman, of the United States, and Cyril Coaffee, of Canada.

It would be a hard task to enumerate the number of record equaling performances recorded since the last meeting of the I. A. A. F.

Only last Saturday the record was equalled four times—twice by Frank Wykoff and once by Charles Borah, at Fresno, Calif., and once by George Simpson at Philadelphia.

On the preceding Saturday Simpson, in a dual meet at Ohio State, was timed in 93-5 under apparently normal conditions.

Claude Bracey, Rice Institute star, has been timed at 92-5, 93-5 and 93-5, on various occasions this year. He had a wind at his back when the clocks caught him at the first time.

The present world record was set June 23, 1906, when Kelly startled the track world by breaking the existing mark. Kelly's record was unchallenged until 1914 when Drew succeeded in tying him.

Paddock was the third to gain the once select circle and he ran the record in record time four times during 1921. Coaffee broke in 1922 and Paddock equalled the mark again in 1924 and 1926.

Court Notes

Seeking to foreclose a mortgage on Santa Ana property, the Farmers and Merchants' Savings bank today brought suit against J. Garfield Allen and others. The mortgage was security for a promissory note for $4200, on which there has been an alleged default in payments.

Guy S. Curtis today brought suit against Lawrence J. Evans and Clarissa Evans, seeking judgment for $424.82. According to the complaint, the defendants became indebted for that amount to the Home Oil company, which has assigned its claim to the plaintiff. In another complaint, naming George Magee and Florence Magee as defendants, Curtis sought judgment for $318.51. The complaint stated that they had become indebted to Andrew Ipsen for that amount and that Ipsen had assigned his claim to the plaintiff.

The Western Loan and Building company today brought suit against Earle D. Hartshorn and others, seeking to foreclose a mortgage on property at Newport Heights. According to the complaint, the mortgage was security for a promissory note for $2800, on which a default is alleged to have been made in payments.

Addie West today petitioned the superior court for letters of administration in the estate of the late Ed West, who died in 1914. An interest in Santa Monica property, valued at $50, was listed as the amount of the estate.

W. E. Allen, facing a burglary charge, will be arraigned in superior court on May 10 as a result of the filing of an information against him today.

Paul Thompson today pleaded guilty to a charge of issuing fictitious checks. He will be sentenced at 9:30 a. m. on May 7.

The jury of six men and six women trying the case of A. D. Smith, charged with violation of the compensation act, reported back to Justice Kenneth Morrison, after deliberating for an hour and 20 minutes yesterday afternoon, that it was hopelessly deadlocked and unable to reach a verdict. The jury was discharged and the case reset for trial at 10 a. m. May 14. Smith, who had been in jail on the charge since April 11, was released by Judge Morrison on his own recognizance pending the new trial.

After having pleaded guilty to a charge of owning and operating a still, Fred Carter asked for probation, which was granted today in superior court for a term of two years. Carter, however, will serve six months in the county jail as a condition to the probation grant.

Information charging Rolie Rye with burglary was filed today. He was to answer to his arraignment late today.

Information against Ray Vaughn, charging him with grand theft in connection with the alleged stealing of a coupe from Earl Woods, was filed today. Vaughn was to answer to his arraignment later today.

G. A. Baker was sentenced by Justice Morrison yesterday to serve three months in jail on a charge of defrauding an inn keeper. Carrying out of judgment then was suspended.

ed for a period of six months by the judge, providing the defendant opportunity to pay the bill.

Only three cases were heard in city court yesterday by Judge Talbott. G. O. Berry, E. E. Drysdale and C. V. Trickey were fined $2 each for overtime parking.

James Espinosa, arrested April 29 on a non-support charge, was released from custody yesterday after filing a bond with Justice Morrison guaranteeing regular payments in the future.

NEWSPAPERS' HISTORY TOLD WOMEN'S CLUB

ANAHEIM, May 3.—The history of newspapers in America was traced for members of the Business and Professional Women's club at the regular meeting of the organization last night by Lotus Loudon, Anaheim publisher. Included in Loudon's talk was the history of early California newspapers, of which the Anaheim Gazette is the third oldest in the state.

Among the interesting facts presented by the speaker were those relating to the first paper to be established, which he stated was The American Weekly Mercury, this paper being followed by the New York Gazette, both papers preceding the publication of Benjamin Franklin's Pennsylvania Gazette.

The tremendous influence that the newspaper has played in American history was told by Loudon, who declared that public opinion is the government of the United States, but that newspapers no longer try to mould public opinion in the manner they once did.

The first paper published in California was in Monterey in 1846 and the second in San Francisco in 1847, the speaker declared. News published in these sheets was from three to four months old, he said. The Anaheim Gazette was established in 1870 by George Washington Barter, the present owner, Henry Kuchel, working the hand roller with which the press was inked and delivering the papers to the subscribers.

Kuchel was then 11 years old. He still continues to take an active part in the activities of the Gazette, although he has been totally blind for many years.

Writers of history and especially California history depend largely on the files of newspapers for their facts, the publisher declared.

Mrs. Ross Hart, president of the club, was in charge of the meeting, about 25 members and 15 guests being present. Dinner was served at the Elks club, where the meeting was held at 6:30 o'clock.

Miss Ruth Tauton acted as toastmaster for the occasion and Mrs. Louis Friis, program chairman of the Toasties' club, was the visiting critic. Mrs. James Rymer gave an interesting talk on "Why We Cannot Afford to Waste Leisure," stating that nearly all those who had made an outstanding success of life had made use of their leisure hours.

Samuel E. Loose, instructor of physical training in the public schools, brought his stunt club to

CLASS TO HEAR OPENING MUSIC WEEK PROGRAM

The opening gun of Santa Ana's participation in National Music week will be fired Sunday morning, when a violin quartet from the Santa Ana Conservatory of Music, under the direction of Elwood Bear, will present a 30-minute program of unusual and inspiring music before members of the Men's Community Bible class, which meet at 8:30 in the West Coast-Walker theater.

The program to be presented by the quartet, as announced today by Prof. D. C. Cianfoni, head of the conservatory, will include "Operatic Selections," containing passages from three famous operas, as arranged by Harris, and "Serenata Napolitana" by D'Alessio. The violin quartet is made up of Georgia Belle Walton, Marian Nau, Evelyn Richards and the director, Elwood Bear. Professor Cianfoni will supervise the presentation and also has been invited to participate in the program with a trombone solo. A piano selection "Slavonic Rhapsody" also will be included on the musical program.

Officers and members of the class expressed themselves as being elated over the fact that their organization was to lead off the week's observance and were delighted that such fine talent was to appear.

Literature Group Convenes Tuesday

TUSTIN, May 3.—The Tustin Literature section of the Elbell club will hold its next regular session Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. D. L. McCharles, C street near Main street, Tustin.

ACTIVITIES OF S. A. RELIGIOUS COUNCIL TOLD

The Religious Educational council of Santa Ana, meeting at the Y. M. C. A. last night, enjoyed a 6:30 dinner and heard reports on committee activities.

J. A. Cranston, president of the council, presided. He introduced the speakers, who gave brief verbal sketches of their plans and work. Mrs. Maude Johnson, chairman of the pre-school age group, reported her committee's plan to make a survey of Santa Ana as to the religious needs of the pre-school child and how best the council can be of service to parents in this respect.

George Walker, chairman of the survey committee, said that a comprehensive review of the various phases in church organizations and life of this city would be made and that a survey had been made in the public schools. The latter revealed interesting information in regard to reading matter, entertainment and vocations which are of vital interest to children.

Mrs. L. J. Gall reported plans under way for the World Friendship institute and the World Friendship schools, to be held here in October and part of November.

According to a report given by the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, chairman of the finance committee, the entire $500 budget, recently set by the council, has been underwritten by the various Santa Ana churches. Each church has taken the amount assigned it.

R. Fred Chambers, as chairman of a recently formed young people's department, told of the activities of the young people's council of Santa Ana churches.

As a member of the young people's council, Clifford L. Chaffee reported for the co-operative boys' life committee, of which he is chairman, and expressed himself as gratified in the response of churches to the special emphasis which was placed on Boys' week. He said that a large number of boys were taking advantage of the Longer swim campaign, conducted at the Y. M. C. A., this week, and told of the large number of junior boys who were to take advantage of the outing, this afternoon, in Irvine park. Plans have been made for junior high school boys to tour San Pedro harbor tomorrow. He thanked the ministers for the special services for boys and boys' leaders, which have been featured this week. Chaffee also said that the leaders' fellowship meetings, which have been conducted for leaders of boys' groups here, have had an average attendance of 40 persons. Ed Miller, chairman of the general committee on the Daily Vacation Bible schools; Miss Beatrice

Clayton, chairman of the committee on the Institute for the schools, and James H. Hughes, chairman of the schools, gave comprehensive reports on the set-up for the schools. Five Daily Vacation Bible schools will open June 24 and continue for four weeks, with 10 churches taking part.

Announcement was made of play to hold an institute for training of leaders in the D. Vacation Bible school work on 17 and 18. The Rev. Harry Evan Ovi, pastor of the First Baptist church, here, gave an inspirational on the value and purpose of Daily Vacation schools.

CRIBE INVESTIGATES TO FIND WHAT KIND OF SHOES MILADY WILL PICK FOR SPRNG WEAR

BY "OLD SLEUTH"

"Wonder what kind of shoes Santa Ana women are buying this spring?" mused the city editor with a meaning glance at nearby copy hound. "Remember the bright colors that adorned the feminine foot last year? Wonder if women will go over the city in more colorful footwear than ever? Why not you go sleuthing around the shoe stores and find out?"

Now detectives have been many when one wished to see what might be detected while detecting was good? We should be the "Old Sleuth," so donning a disguise which gave us an appearance of a newspaper writer, we sallied forth, to see whether feminine footwear was returning to the buskin of Shakespeare, the fringed moccasin of the Redskins, heavy woolen stockings and rubber boots of the lumberman's camp, or round-toed kid slipper of colonial days.

Now, strange as it may seem, one of those far-fetched ideas is really embodied in a striking shoe displayed in one Santa Ana shop window. This is the Navajo sandal, which Peterson's Shoe store is featuring among other attractive new spring styles. The Navajo is a happy medium between the common sense, flat-heeled sports brogue of yesteryear and the frivolous, high-heeled slipper for dress wear, so will have a well defined place in the wardrobe of the modern girl.

Two especially attractive forms are the "Osage" in fawn and chocolate, and the "Comanche" in white and gray.

In the same windows the interested shopper may glimpse a graceful pump of severely plain lines, developed in that lovely new color called "clay," a blue which is almost slate in its effect, but which would combine beautifully with one of the new printed silks with blue prominent in its design.

There, too, will be found the latest in Deauville sandals, for, according to Roy C. Peterson, the Deauville will still be pre-eminent for general sports wear and the genuine shoes, imported from Czechoslovakia, now are made on American lasts.

Hand-Tailored Footwear

Attracted by the placard, "Hand-Tailored Footwear," Milady undoubtedly will linger at the Fred L. Rice and Son store, where her eye will be caught by the smartly designed shoes in French kid, especially by those in the varying tones of sand, beige and blonde. One of these in particular, in that delicate tone called "water lily," would be daintily peeping from beneath the lace flounces of a coffee-tinted afternoon gown in period style. For believe it or not, the robes de style, as shown at present, would lead us to believe that the once popular little poem about "Her feet beneath her petticoat, like little mice, steal in and out," again may be appropriate.

But to return to our muttons—or our kids. Ray Brothers' store windows seem to live up to the suggestion of the proprietors. "Trim patterns. Plenty of snap and color." For almost any type of frock and almost any color might be matched there, from the widely varied shades of blonde, parchment and golden brown, to the thoroughly delightful pump in soft blue, rose pink, green, or even brilliant red. Although the last named, suggests trim white sports frock with red flannel jacket rather than the frilly georgettes and organdies called to mind by the more delicate colors.

Room For Shoes

With the myriad other articles which may be found in Taylor's Cash store, there yet is room for shoes, and the window display will intrigue the earnest seeker after footwear, especially if she be intent on getting a smart yet serviceable pair of black patent leathers or soft kid. Not that the stock is confined to black—there are various attractive designs in the sand, and blonde shades.

At the opposite end of Fourth street, "way down east," are to be found the famous Brownbilt shoes handled by Sebastians. These seem to be of unusually pleasing design for a shoe that combines the maximum of comfort with trim lines so desirable to a woman who wishes her feet shod with neatness and style.

Crossing Fourth street to the north, shoe sleuthing naturally leads to the J. C. Penney store, where is to be found attractively smart footwear for the conservative woman. Shapely patent leathers seem to vie with the prevailing blonde and sand shades for favor. Is every woman in Santa Ana planning to have new shoes at once?

The Schilling display windows offer a wide variety not only in style and color but in material. Soft red kid and black satin; a cut velvet design and open-work blonde shoes with short vamps and high heels are all to be seen here, while a special section of the window is given over to Deauville sandals in various color combinations.

Look Better Than Sound

Health shoes may not sound smart, but fortunately women buy shoes for how they look (and feel) not how they sound. So the Enna Jettick health shoes in the Economy Shoe store may not sound intriguing, but they feel wonderful 'tis said. They are so graceful in their lines, whether developed in black kid, patent leather, sand or fawn kid, and in low heeled oxford or high heeled pump, that passers-by are just compelled to stop at the store windows on North Main street, and look at them.

One of the greatest changes in the last year or two in leathers and skins for footwear has been the introduction of reptile skins, and Milady of Fashion has found that lizard and watersnake offer the plus ultra of style and comfort. Watkins' Bootery has in its windows some of the smartest developments in watersnake that are to be found. Soft as a glove, the natural mottled finish has been retained and the result is a beautiful shoe in one of the most attractive shades of creamy tan imaginable. The new "clay" blue may be found in this window, worked out in three distinctive styles, a strapped pump, a smart little tie and a dress slipper in metallic silk. Slender pumps in blonde leathers, with a number in the bright, yet soft reds and greens, show the trend of the times towards retaining the colors so beloved of womankind.

Light Shades Emphasized

This emphasis on the lighter shades and on colors is repeated at Newcombs, where smart effects are attained by the combining of blonde leathers and kids with trimmings in darker shades. Deference is paid the chooser of reptile skins and charming effects are given by the use of water-snake. A striking adaptation of the Deauville is shown in a woven leather sandal stitched to a light turned sole that is so flexible that it can be doubled back on itself in no wise affecting its strength or wearing qualities. The height of comfort would be obtained from this sandal, with no lessening of smartness and style. The plain black satin pump always is a popular style, according to Fred Newcomb, who pointed out its possibilities for formal evening wear when "dressed up" with a buckle of cut steel or brilliants.

Slippers for party wear, for street, sports or afternoon, may be chosen from the varied stock in the Studio Booterie, and the windows suggest the variety to be found on the shelves. Fortunately the woman whose foot is to be fitted with a short broad shoe, for if she wears a size 3 in a B last, she can secure there practically any style for any occasion at a price that is a delight to thrifty hearts. This includes even evening slippers in gold and silver kids, with a fetching arrangement of buckled straps.

Where economy is to be considered, this is a great argument and may be applied also to the selection in the Kafeteria Shoe store, whose windows offer something to please almost any whimsy of fashion, and at the same time make no excessive demands on the pocket-book. This has a special appeal to Milady who wishes different shoes to match different costumes. Her wishes may thus be fulfilled and the colorful costume be completed by equally colorful shoes.

Gay Colors Prevail

Directly across West Fourth street are the Miles windows where patent leathers and soft finished black kids provide background for the lighter, gayest colors. Bright blues, deep reds, golden brown velvet costume shoes and many combinations of sand and darker brown shades are to be found in abundance.

Discriminating women are finding an attractive assortment of shoes for both dress and sports wear at the Montgomery Ward company store on North Broadway and many a smartly clad pair of feet will go tripping over Santa Ana pavements in frivolous little slippers, or more business-like oxfords and sports shoes, selected from the complete stock carried there.

So there are the results of a sleuthing expedition, and when Milady walks abroad to buy her shoes, she'll find the home town merchants have the stock from which to choose.

HUM'S CAUSE MAY LIE IN FILAMENT

Fans troubled with hum in their AC filament type tubes may find its source in an unbalanced filament circuit. The hum generally occurs in a filament circuit employing a center-tapped transformer winding or a center-tap fixed resistance.

In either instance there is no means provided for compensating for any unbalance in the circuit. With this in mind, Claretat engineers developed and produced the new Hum-dinger, an improved center-tap adjustable resistor. This device will eliminate hum in the AC filament type tube and also provide a ready means of grid-biasing by filament voltage drop in A battery circuits.

Say 20 Minutes Is Maximum Time For Saving Souls

CHICAGO, May 3.—(UP)—If you can't save a soul in twenty minutes, you can't save it, according to a consensus of Chicago ministers.

Radio sermons and efficiency of modern theological training combined with modern demands of speed, have combined to make the limit of the most effective sermon one-third of an hour, the ministers generally were agreed. Rev. Howard R. Brinker, pastor of St. Bartholomew's church, said he believed no souls were saved after a twenty-minute talk.

"If a minister can't do his mission in 20 minutes," he said, "I don't believe he ever can."

Dr. H. P. Almon Abbott, rector of St. Chrysostom's, and nationally known as a speaker, differed from the majority in setting a limit, however. He said that a pastor should talk as long as his sermon was interesting. He himself preaches from 25 to 35 minutes.

ARMY BALLOONIST HONORED

Lightning slashed an army balloon during the Pittsburgh balloon races last year, burning fatally one of the pilots. Lieut. Uzal B. Ent, the other pilot, didn't desert the balloon in a parachute as he might have done, but instead brought the ship through a fierce storm to the ground, when an attempt was made to revive his companion. That was "the most meritorious and outstanding act of valor" in the Army Air Corps last year, and for his heroism Lieut. Ent is shown above, right, being presented with the Cheney award—a bronze plaque—and a $500 check by Secretary of War James Good.

small son to America. He spent another 10 years on the stage in this country before going into pictures.

"Every time I said anything to my friends about going into pictures they laughed at me," remarks Torrence. "They told me that I wouldn't do at all, that the movies wanted young, handsome men. Eventually, however, I got my start. Inspiration Pictures were looking for some big men to support Richard Barthelmess in 'Tolable David' and Edward Small, a film players' manager, got me the 'heavy' role."

In Demand
"Tolable David" was a huge success and still stands as one of the leading pictures of all time. It was Barthelmess' first starring production and absolutely established him. And it put over several others of the cast, including Torrence. The day that picture was released a new screen character was born.

The big actor arrived in Hollywood at the same time the picture was playing here and was immediately grabbed by the Paramount studio for an important part in Jim Cruze's "The Covered Wagon." Since then he has been constantly in demand as a rough and tough screen villain. Not until now has he ever had an opportunity to play the handsome leading man.

Torrence doesn't care much for the social side of Hollywood. He lives in a comfortable but unpretentious home with his wife and son, who is a scenario reader at the RKO studios. They have their own small circle of friends and are contented to stay out of the big social whirlpool.

These MOVIE PEOPLE

BY DAN THOMAS
NEA Service Writer
HOLLYWOOD, Calif., May 3.—Imagine big, rough Ernest Torrence immaculately attired in evening clothes and imagine him singing.

Sounds sort of far-fetched, doesn't it? But it's a fact. In "The Green Ghost," which he is now making under the direction of Lionel Barrymore, Torrence is the faultlessly dressed "Romeo" who spends a good deal of his time wooing Dorothy Sebastian—a job that should make it easy for any man to wear the conventional "suit of armor." And how Ernest can wear clothes when he makes up his mind to do so! Jack Gilbert hasn't a thing on him.

Sings and Plays.
No, you won't hear the big, strong fellow warbling any love songs to the charming Dorothy in this film. But he will burst forth with some sort of a tune to his own piano accompaniment in his next picture. It will be the real thing, too—none of this doubling business that already has made its appearance in the talkies.

Torrence is one of the most musical persons in the celluloid village. He spent 20 years in musical shows before going to the movies.

"I will be glad of the opportunity to sing a little in these talkies," Torrence told me as we sat at lunch in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer cafe. "I don't want to sing any long, drawn out songs—just about one chorus, enough to make people say, 'Why, the old sun-of-a-gun can sing!'"

In London Shows
"I always have been musically inclined. When I was a kid in Scotland, I wore kilts up to the time I was 15. Yes, and I played the bag-pipe a little. But I favored the piano. A few years later I went to London to study and teach music.

"When I was 22 I made my first appearance behind the footlights with a London musical show. It was in this show that I met my present wife, who was one of the cast. We were married before the show broke up three years later."

Torrence played in various London shows for another seven years and then brought his wife and

WHAT'LL POLITICIAN DO NOW?

Maybe it's because the city has just held an election, but anyhow, the Oakland health department is issuing bills like these to all local babies as a means of protecting the kiddies from these too osculatory admirers.

CAPISTRANO PUPILS GIVE PLAY TONIGHT

LAGUNA BEACH, May 3.—The program prepared by Mrs. Esther Handy for the Children's fair Saturday at the school grounds indicates a more elaborate entertainment, more exhibits, and more interest than on any former occasion.

The program is to start at 2 p. m., but the fair grounds, the school house yard, will be open at 10 o'clock. A plate lunch is to be served at noon. A May pole dance by kindergarten children, a May day fete, side shows, and various kinds of entertainment make it a big day in the life of the children. The fair will open with a parade beginning at 9:30 o'clock from the chamber of commerce building, proceeding down Park avenue to Coast boulevard, thence up the boulevard south to Legion street and to the school house. Judges at the bank corner will decide on prize winners, awarding them for the prettiest beach costume worn by a girl, the best pirate, viking or sailor costume worn by a boy, and for the most unique costume. The parade will be led by Harold Brown as King Neptune and Gretchen Schwin as Queen Amphitrite. In the parade will also be the Laguna Beach Marine band, drums, cornets and a kindergarten band.

L. E. BEHYMER TO PARTICIPATE IN MUSIC WEEK

Final discussion of the elaborate plans which have been under way for the opening of Music week at 2:30 p. m., Sunday, in Birch park, was the feature of importance at the luncheon meeting of the Music week committee, held in Ketter's cafe this noon.

D. C. Clanton and Miss Ruth Andrews reported that publicity for the Santa Ana event has been obtained through representative papers as far north as San Francisco and as far south as San Diego.

Mention was made of having procured L. E. Behymer, eminent Impassario, of Hollywood, to talk briefly Sunday afternoon and to act as master of ceremonies.

Technical arrangements were considered in order that the program might run smoothly and without confusion. Walter Spicer said that the stage would seat 300 persons, but it is not believed that the capacity will be sufficient for the splendid choruses which will appear.

James Hughes and Ralph Smedley were appointed by Harry Hanson, Music week chairman, as a committee to provide community song leaders for the Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday night programs.

Music committee members who attended the luncheon today included Cecil Fross Willits, Frances Hunt Beeson, Ruth Andrews, Faustina Lucero, Harry Hanson, D. C. Clanton, James Hughes, Ralph Smedley, Leon Eckles, Walter Spicer, Sol Gonzales and Harold Yost.

GOVERNOR WILL OPEN AVOCADO SHOW BY RADIO

Undaunted by the inability of Gov. C. C. Young to be present to address the thousands of visitors expected at the Whittier Avocado show, opening Monday night, May 6, E. C. Dutton, president of the California Avocado Growers' association, commanded an airplane and journeyed through space to Sacramento to extend an invitation for the governor to address the people of Southern California over KMTR-KPLA radio stations.

So impressed was Governor Young with the idea of having all visitors attend the Avocado show on the opening night that he immediately accepted.

"We are installing one of the largest addressing systems available in the huge main tent and at 9 o'clock Monday night, from an improvised platform, where the governor ordinarily would stand, the mammoth loud speaker will deliver the opening address of the governor as he speaks from the state capitol in Sacramento," Dutton said.

The broadcast to come over the American Broadcasting corporation's lines to KMTR and KPLA.

PROGRAM FOR RCA HOUR ANNOUNCED

"Music for the 4,000,000 rather than The '400,' is the Slogan of George Lieblich, internationally known Composer and concert Pianist, who now is spreading his fame To even further corners Of the earth via The broadcast facilities Of the National Broadcasting company— And the reason, Lieblich admits, is That he likes His American royalties Better than European royalty— The noted pianist, who Enjoys the distinction Of having played Before all the larger Courts of Europe and Of having lectured To thousands of American university Students and musical Groups, declares that America has an Honest appreciation of The finest in music And that, as a Young nation, it has Not become blasé Like Europe— Lieblich does not Condemn jazz; he is Most indulgent of All types of music— "Jazz—or anything— It is all just as It should be," He contends— "Chaos reigns now, but Out of it all real Representative National music will Come," he declares— The new in music, Despite what type of Music it represents, Always should be Welcomed, for The world would starve

Music lovers and students of the sky and its wonders who tune in NBC system stations during the broadcast of the RCA hour from 8 to 9 o'clock tonight will hear both masterpieces of musical literature and a talk on astronomy.

Margaret O'Dea, contralto; Edward Randall, baritone, and the RCA orchestra, under Max Dolin's direction, will present selections preceding and following an educational lecture by Henry M. Hyde, of the Astronomical Society of the Pacific.

Festive melodies, indicative of rejoicing over nature's spring awakening, begin the hour. The orchestra opens the "World of Music and Letters" period with Singing's "Rustle of Spring," a joyous tone poem interpreting the legend that spring can be heard coming through the night.

SALVATION ARMY IS BENEFITED BY RADIO

CHICAGO, May 2.—Money from people living in nearly half the states of the Union has been received at WENR as the result of the "stock-selling" campaign inaugurated by Mike and Herman, the station's comedy team, that has just organized the Wild Hootenattie Manufacturing Trust.

Accounts are being kept and audited by members of the Salvation Army in Chicago.

The comedy pair, to bolster up the finances of their mythical organization, decided to sell engraved stock certificates. These certificates are forwarded to every person sending in a dime or more. The station is bearing all the expense. The entire proceeds goes to the Salvation Army. The station's publicity man referred to the plan as "dollars for doughnuts."

CHANNEL WIDTHS DEFINED BY BOARD

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3.—Due to advances in the art of radio communication permitting greater use of channels than heretofore, the Federal Radio commission issued a general order defining the width of communication channels in the short wave spectrum above 1500 kilocycles. The width of particular channels depends on the position in the spectrum, that is, upon the absolute value of the frequency, as well as on the type of service to which a given channel is devoted. The effect is to increase the number of high frequency channels by putting some closer together.

Thus a television channel is to be not wider than 100 kilocycles, a relay broadcasting station between 6000 and 9600 kc shall be regarded as 20 kc in width, and a commercial telephone channel is to be regarded as 6000 kc in width.

If you are thinking about selling your business, a little Classified ad in the Register will do the job. Phone 87.

OLD FRIENDS, THESE TWO

But Who Knows, What Colonel Ruppert and Huggins Really Are Thinking?

Wonder what Colonel Jake Ruppert and Miller Huggins are talking about? Huggins looks happy, yes; the colonel has a sort of quizzical look on his face. As a matter of fact, neither one felt in the best of humor when this was taken for the Athletics were giving the world champions a wallop at New York. Of course, der colonel expects his Yankees to win another pennant and so does Huggins but neither one will be sure about it unless the Yankees get about 37 games ahead of the other clubs. Then they might vouchsafe a "belief" that the Yankees might win!

'LITTLE POKER FACE' EXCITED AS DAY FOR PRESENTATION TO BRITISH ROYALTY DRAWS NEAR

PARIS, May 3.—Helen Wills, who has won an international reputation for coolness in hotly contested tennis matches, is living in a whirl of excitement this week. The famous California tennis star may be "Little Poker Face" at Wimbledon courts but she admits a thrill at the thought of her coming presentation at court at Buckingham palace May 9.

Even tennis has been pushed into the background temporarily to permit Miss Wills to pay almost daily visits to the establishment of Jean Patou, who is designing her court gown.

Miss Wills is "more excited" than if she was going to play a championship match, she told the United Press correspondent between trips to the dressmakers and the tennis court, where she is practicing on a reduced schedule this week. Just what "more excited" means to the girl who has faced the greatest of tennis stars without a trace of nervousness is difficult to judge unless Miss Wills' enthusiastic preparations are taken into consideration.

Jean Patou is creating a gown of eggshell colored satin bordering on ivory for Miss Wills. It is very simple in design but necessary has a long train. The neck will be "V-shaped" both back and front. There will be flowing folds on the sides and back but no trimmings, although it was said there might be a little design of tennis rackets worked onto the decoration on the train.

Miss Harriet Walker, of San Francisco, a friend of Miss Wills, will wear a dress of virtually the same design when she is presented at court the same night. The color will be different—a pale green.

Miss Wills will arrive in London Sunday and stay at the American Women's club.

A group of her paintings will be on exhibition in London later.

HINT LEAGUE FRANCHISE SHIFT S. A. - Fullerton Game Seems Assured

INDIANS LIKELY TO REJOIN OLD SPORTS LEAGUE

Fullerton high school will welcome the opportunity of returning to the Coast Preparatory league and renewing athletic relations with Santa Ana if it is unable to make connections with the newly organized Foothill league, Louis Plummer, principal of the Fullerton school, told a Register representative today.

Because of the compactness of the Foothill league, eliminating the necessity for long trips and especially overnight ones to San Diego, Fullerton would prefer to link itself with the new circuit, Plummer said, but, failing in this, Fullerton undoubtedly will accept the Coast Preparatory league's invitation to rejoin their ranks.

Plummer emphasized the fact, however, that he was talking unofficially and that the school's decision would not be made until after the meeting of the California Interscholastic federation in Los Angeles later this month at which time all leagues for 1929-30 will be organized. Plummer said the Coast league's official bid had not yet been received in Fullerton.

In Coast Preparatory league circles it was believed certain that Fullerton will be unable to make connections with the Foothill league in which will be Monrovia, Burbank, Muir Tech of Pasadena, South Pasadena, Whittier and the new Herbert Hoover school of Glendale. Burbank already has notified Foothill league officials that it will resign if Fullerton is admitted. Burbank objects to playing schools the size of Fullerton, it is said.

With Fullerton certain to leave the Orange league this year and virtually sure of rejoining the Coast league, fans will be assured of a game this fall between Santa Ana and Fullerton, old time football rivals.

PEARSON STOPS ORANGE COUNTY WITH 5 BLOWS

	W	L	Pct.
San Diego	14	6	.700
Bakersfield	12	8	.600
San Bernardino	11	9	.550
Orange County	3	17	.150

Monty Pearson, who is expected to be a regular pitcher for Oakland in the Pacific Coast league next season, handuffed Orange County with five hits at the Fair grounds yesterday and the California State league tallies lost their second straight game to Bakersfield, 14 to 3.

Pearson was robbed of a shut-out by Otto Brande, Countian shortstop, who blasted a home run over the right center field wall in the ninth inning. Jess Orndorff's gang bunched three of their five blows in the sixth but couldn't score, a beautiful throw to the plate from deep center by Martin wiping out one potential tally.

Max Moody, young Fullerton southpaw, started for the Countians but was driven to cover in the third after being hit hard. Charley Laird came in with the bases drunk and let five runs in before retiring the side. Laird gave away to a pinch hitter in the seventh and Al Encinas, a newcomer to the local staff, went the last two frames without fooling Louis Guisto's Bees too much.

Encinas was particularly ineffective with men on base. "Red" Porter, husky Bakersfield catcher, had a field day at bat, connecting for a homer, two doubles and a single in five times. Elwood bagged a double and a couple of singles. Brande got two of Orange County's five bingles.

They play again today, tomorrow and Sunday. The score:

SAINT GRID TEAMS TO PLAY THURSDAY

The first game in the annual interclass football series at Santa Ana high school will be next Thursday, between the sophomores and seniors, according to Coach "Tex" Oliver.

Lettermen are barred from competition in the series. The seniors have won all past games and are favorites again. The juniors will meet the winner of the senior-soph struggle on Thursday, May 16, for the school title.

After playing semi-pro baseball in Cincinnati for 33 years, Leonard "Pop" Simms recently said he was through.

WORLD RECORD LIKELY AS AGE SPRINTERS VIE

LOS ANGELES, May 3.—If ideal condition prevail in Southern California tomorrow afternoon, word of a new record in the 100-yard dash may be flashed to the world from the Los Angeles Coliseum.

Two of the nation's most talked of sprinters—Frank Wykoff, the Glendale flash, and Charley Borah, curly-headed captain of the University of Southern California track team, will face each other in the century for the first time in their young careers.

Each has clocked off the distance in world's record time of 9.3-5 seconds on several occasions this season and with the strong competition as an incentive, officials of the Southern Pacific A. U. are anticipating the downfall of the old mark.

The field in the 100 yard dash is one of the strongest ever gathered in Southern California track history. In addition to Borah and Wykoff, Nate George, Whittier Negro; "Red" Guyer, Santa Ana junior college; Johnny Hill of the University of California at Los Angeles, and Milt Maurer of the Trojan team, have clicked the distance

STARS ON ROAD TONIGHT: OPEN LEAGUE FRIDAY

Santa Ana's Stars will go shooting after their fifth straight night baseball triumph tonight when they go to Whittier for an exhibition game at 8 o'clock.

The Stars defeated the Quaker city lunar representatives here last week, 7 to 2, but Lloyd Johnson, veteran pitching star of the Whittier clan, was not on the ridge and he will be tonight, it is understood. Johnson has always been a tough nut for Santa Ana to crack. He has lost only one game in three seasons to the home herd.

Glenn Stockbridge and Joe Ochoa will share the mound chores for Santa Ana again. Captain Horace Snow said. Ochoa went the route when Whittier came here so Stockbridge probably will start.

Cole, Foote, Hill and Scott will be in the infield with Schuchardt, Nelson and Preble or Merrill in the outfield. Wilcox will catch. This will be the next to last practice shindig for Santa Ana before the formal opening of the Orange County Night league a week from tonight. The Stars will meet Glendale here early next week and then remain idle until opposing Garden Grove in the Bowl Friday.

POMONA TO BE NEW HOME OF COUNTY TEAM?

The indifferent attitude of Orange county's baseball populace toward a organized baseball, such as offered at the Fair grounds, will result in the removal of the section's California State league franchise to some other more friendly community, probably Pomona, it was understood here today.

Class D baseball hasn't drawn flies here despite the frantic efforts of league representatives from all over the circuit to drum up interest in Santa Ana, Anaheim, Orange and Fullerton and the magnates have begun to sour on the proposition of playing to a handful of cash customers the rest of the schedule which runs until Labor Day.

W. W. (Bill) Breazeale, publicity man for the league, who has been here since Tuesday in an effort to determine the cause of Orange county's apathy, was in conference with officials of the Pomona Chamber of Commerce yesterday relative to transferring Orange county's franchise to that city.

The Pomona city council officially sanctioned the use of the Pomona Fair grounds for baseball and all that now remains is for the chamber of commerce there to get behind the movement, it is believed.

The name of George W. Harding, San Diego contractor, was mentioned in the negotiations. Harding was here last week with a proposal to personally finance the construction of a modern baseball plant in Santa Ana but nothing has been heard from him since. It is presumed he will take over the club if it is shifted to Pomona. Chet Thomas, veteran catcher, has been mentioned as a probable manager for the team. Harding takes it to Pomona.

HOKY AND SLIDES Henry L. Farrell

DID YOU KNOW THAT—Phil Ball, owner of the Browns, sold his radio rights for five gees. . . . And the other club owners say he got an awful trimming. . . . Earl Sande says his horse, Hermitage, is a loafer. . . . But that he'll get it out of him before he starts in the Derby. . . . And Sande was smacked 25 smacks by the starter a few days ago. . . . For beating the gate. . . . And the other jocks say he can get away with anything. . . . "Dazzy" Vance got hit on the pitching elbow in batting practice the other morning. . . . And he said to Manager Robby—"Guess I won't have to show up this afternoon, huh?" . . . And Robby said—"You'll have to show up because you're going to pitch." . . . And he did pitch. . . . It cost Choe Jacobs $225 to talk by phone to his boy Schmeling in Berlin. . . . And he got two wrong numbers first. . . . The Yanks now call Lou Gehrig "Lit-back." . . . And in a crap game tie Joe. . . . Because he wears a number four on his back. . . . And in a crap game they call the point four "Little Joe."

EVANS HOPES FOR BEST Perhaps it is a bit early in the season to be praising young ball players, but here's a toot for that young Wes Ferrell who is with the Indians. Incidentally, he's a brother of Rick Ferrell, another classy youngster who is with the Browns.

During the opening home engagement of the Indians against the Detroit and Chicago clubs, young Ferrell was called upon three times to do some relief hurling. And, as a relief man, he offered a brand of pitching that practically earned him the right to start a game in the very near future.

Ferrell received credit for two victories in the three games he worked. He pitched two innings one day and five the next day against the Tigers and allowed only five hits in those seven frames. Again the White Sox, he gave up one hit in two innings.

It isn't exactly the matter of runs and hits that impresses about Ferrell. He has a very good fast ball, a good curve—and plenty control. And looking at him standing out there on the mound, you get the idea that somehow or other being in the big leagues is just another place to pitch baseball to him.

It may be a good idea to make note of this Ferrell. He may prove a dud, but he certainly looks the real goods now.

WAS HE FIRED? Another young player who is getting a lot of sweet notices already is Roy Watwood, playing an outfield post with the White Sox.

Billy Evans, the business manager of the Indians, looks at Watwood and sees "an exact double for Joe Jackson at the plate."

Bill had a chance to get Watwood last season. The kid was playing in the Cotton States and hitting around .400 when he was recommended to the Indians. Evans sent a scout down there and the scout okayed him and reported that the club wanted three grand for him.

"He's not worth that much dough," said the scout, "but he's a buy at $2500."

Well, Watwood couldn't be bought for $2500. The kid was sold to the Shreveport club of the Texas League in mid-season and then sold for $20,000 to the White Sox at the end of the season.

McGraw LIKES HIM John McGraw, who manages the Giants, also missed a chance to get Watwood and failed, but it doesn't keep the Giants' boss from saying plenty about the youngster. McGraw's team played the White Sox a number of exhibition games this season.

"He's the most natural hitter I've seen in years," he claims. "We never could get him out. He's a bit rough as a fielder yet, but he certainly can hit."

Five Grapplers Awarded Letters

Five Santa Ana high school wrestlers will receive letters this year, according to recommendations made by "Tex" Oliver, coach. They are Captain Harvey Greenleaf, Max Cruzen, LeRoy De Smet, Leonard Lockhart and Floyd Barker. Greenleaf lost only one league match during the season.

Harding takes it to Pomona.

The responsibilities of the association were stated as being to assist in the care of abandoned pets and in finding homes when owners want to get rid of their pets. It is also a function of the society to dispose of diseased or aged or injured animals.

That the individual who calls on the society has certain obligations and that he should take steps to deliver animals to the society was asserted. Co-operation by the police department has been enjoyed by the society since its inception.

A vote of thanks was given the city council for its decision to place drinking accommodations for dogs in the fountains which are to be established along the ocean front at three points or more.

TRUCK OVERTURNS

WINTERSBURG, May 3.—J. W. McIntosh, local slaughter house proprietor, had a close call from serious injury when his large truck overturned on a steep grade near Laguna Beach one day this week. Mr. McIntosh and son, John, went for a load of hogs and as they were nearing their destination, the steering gears of the truck went wrong. John got out to direct his father in backing down the grade but McIntosh found it would not be safe to try to get down the hill, so steered the truck into the high side of the road and it overturned. McIntosh sustained a severe shaking up and sprained back in the accident.

TRUE VALUE OF RAIL HOLDINGS HERE STUDIED

Dealing with figures that are expensive, and details that are about the experience of the majority of persons, even those that insistently require the services of the railroad systems of the United States either in travel or shipping, George E. Gandy and E. Malloy of the board of valuation of the interstate commerce commission, are now in Santa Ana, daily engaged in ascertaining the true value of the Santa Fe railroad holdings and right-of-way through Orange county.

Work Huge Task
The work is in connection with the huge task of the commerce commission in appraising the value of every mile of railroad in the United States—a task that embraces the small systems of a few miles or so as well as those great transcontinental lines which stretch together the east coast and the west. When concluded, it will mean that for the first time since 1862 for the majority of lines, and in some cases the first time in railroad history, that the actual value of all the systems in the United States will have been determined, according to Gandy, who, when interviewed in the apartment he has taken in the Broadway apartments, gave a short but enlightening account of the involved features of his work.

Six Weeks in County
The two men of the commerce commission and William N. McCreedy, of Los Angeles, valuation engineer with the Santa Fe, expect to devote approximately six weeks to the work in Orange county alone, investigating every mile in connection with the holdings of the Santa Fe from the borders of Los Angeles county to those of San Diego county. Their investigations with this particular system started in San Francisco, where after six weeks' intensive effort on the part of the two members of the commission, the work was taken over by others, giving them free to start on the Los Angeles district, extending from Santa Barbara on the north to the Mexican border.

Tells of Reason
In outlining the reason for the survey, Mr. Gandy told of the finding of the commission in 1920, that a legitimate profit of 5% cent on their investment might have allowed the railroads to improve this ruling having been made justice to the small systems

NOTHING SEEDY ABOUT THESE

There'll be nothing seedy about the ninth California Valencia Orange show, Anaheim, May 23 to June 2, we are told, and judging by the queens above who will pass around the fruit, the story sounds O. K. Dorothy Day, left, and Della Peterson are among 'em.

which otherwise would lose entirely in competition with the large ones. Any profits in excess of the allotted 5% per cent are then subject to recapture—that is, half of such profits revert to the government. The system has been found to work to the best interests of the smaller systems and to the country in general, as communities that are on small lines and far distant from the larger systems, thus continue to be served by the railroad, which, under different procedure, would be forced out of existence, Mr. Gandy said.

Small Roads Inspected
As may readily be seen, an evaluation date had to be set, as a changeable date would give different systems of appraisal, so December 31, 1927, was named. The work has been under way for some time, and the two government men spent last year in appraising small carriers, including such California lines as Sacramento and Northern, the railroad from Spreckels to Salinas, and similar small lines.

Some idea of the scope of the work may be gained from the fact that every rod of property along a railroad right-of-way has to be appraised, and property titles and sales examined. In the case of sales, both grantors and grantees must be interviewed, and the price ascertained. Every building on such property, trees, etc., must be evaluated, and this is not done theoretically, according to Mr. Gandy, but the fundamental basis for such evaluation is "the actual bona fide sale for cash." Tax assessors' records may perhaps be consulted, but are not taken as authority in any valuation made. A ratio is then determined as to the actual sum represented. Data to Washington
After this work is completed.

POPPY DAY TO BE OBSERVED HERE MAY 29

Preliminary plans for the annual Poppy day, which is an outstanding event on the Auxiliary calendar, will witness the sale in Santa Ana of 4000 red flowers made by disabled veterans and secured by the organization here. Every auxiliary unit in Orange county will sell memorial flowers on May 29. One million flowers have been made by veterans in the United States for this year's campaign. Last year the national organization turned over $10,000 to the disabled men, realized from the sale of the red blossoms. Mrs. Fannie Reeves will direct Poppy day activities here.

On May 9 the auxiliary will serve dinner at the Legion meeting, at which mothers of the men will be guests. It is expected that over 200 will be present at the affair. On May 10 the annual Boy Scout jamboree will be held at the fair grounds, under the auspices of the 40 and 8, for which the auxiliary will serve a dinner from 5 p. m. to 7 p. m. in the Legion hall. Proceeds will go to Boy Scout work. The auxiliary also will conduct a popcorn booth at the fair grounds. Mrs. S. C. Hill will be in charge of the auxiliary's part in the affair.

Mothers will be honored at the next meeting, May 16, which will be preceded by a pot luck dinner. At this session children in the Mexican schools, who have won cash awards offered by the auxiliary for the best essays on the chamber of commerce cleanup campaign, will read their essays and receive their prizes. The essay contest is part of the Americanization work carried on by the auxiliary.

Girl Reserves, sponsored by the auxiliary, will hold a silver tea on May 21, in the high school. On May 25 the auxiliary will stage another dance in the Legion hall. On May 31 the auxiliary will visit the veterans' hospital in San Fernando, where members will enjoy a card party in the afternoon. The auxiliary will assist in providing a buffet supper, which will be served to the men who are able to participate. In the evening the auxiliary glee club will put on a musical program. About 50 members of the Santa Ana organization are expected to attend the affair.

NATURE'S WONDER
LONDON, May 3. — A black opal, christened "Light of the World," found in the Walcott fields of New South Wales, bears the distinct outline of a woman's figure in the middle of it. The stone is valued at between $15,000 and $25,000.

61 MEMBERS IN S. A. BRANCH OF FOREIGN VETS

Sixty-one Orange county veterans of foreign wars of the United States have allied themselves in the association of Veterans of Foreign Wars and have their names inscribed on the charter, according to T. J. Abernathy, temporary secretary-treasurer of the organization. Monday, May 6, at 7:30 p. m., has been set as the time of the next meeting of the men, in the Santa Ana hotel, Sixth and Main streets, this city. This meeting will be under the direct supervision of William Murphy, state commander of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, and Charles W. Kincaid, past commander of Calumet camp, U. S. W. V., the contact organizing officers. C. E. Camm, temporary chairman, will preside.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars was organized in 1899 and is the sole national organization composed exclusively of soldiers of wars and campaigns conducted by the United States on foreign soil. Charles Kincaid, in calling the meeting for Monday night, today pointed out that veterans who have served their country in this manner do not need to be reminded of the strong bonds of friendship existing between those who have crossed the seas on army transports, endured the hardships of foreign lands and the privations of active service, and asked all who have thus served to attend the meeting, identify themselves with the Santa Ana branch and aid in the election of officers.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY SHOP TEACHERS

Members of the Orange County Shop Teachers' association and their wives met this week in Huntington Beach high school for the last meeting of the year.

President Fred Brooks and his wife, of Huntington Beach, were in charge of the 6:30 banquet for the 35 guests. The program included a reading by Mrs. Robert Horn, of Santa Ana, short talks by members and the election of officers. Those elected for the coming year were as follows: Fred Brooks, re-elected president; M. R. Stokesbury, of Fullerton, vice president, and Thomas E. Williams, Santa Ana, secretary-treasurer.

The association meets once a month in a social gathering to discuss current shop problems and promote friendly relations between the county high schools. Charles L. Tibbitts, of Santa Ana, is the retiring secretary.

The Southern Sierras Power company has been authorized by the state railroad commission to issue and sell at not less than par $708,500 of first and refunding mortgage bonds, series "C," due Jan. 1, 1935, and bearing interest at six per cent, it was announced today by the railroad commission. The funds would be used for the purpose of financing the cost of additions and betterments, according to the commission statement. A power line from Seal Beach across Orange county to San Bernardino, the cost of which is estimated at about $450,000, is under consideration by the power concern and work of securing rights-of-way is being carried on.

Delightfully Original Are May Day Parties At Country Club

Original in every detail were the May day parties with which Mrs. Franklin G. West and Mrs. Milburn Harvey, two of Santa Ana's most charming young matrons, entertained at the Santa Ana Country club yesterday and Wednesday.

For the clever young women had fashioned artistic May baskets and quaint little nut cups and place cards for the affair themselves and they carried out an attractive color scheme in glowing pastel tints.

On Wednesday guests were seated for luncheon at small card tables each of which was centered with a basket of sweet peas and forget-me-nots surprisingly like the "May basket" loes served with the dessert course.

At the second delightful party, one long table was employed for the luncheon. Tall candles in pastel tints tied with fluffy tulle and May baskets were arranged the length of the table and the flower motif was carried out in the clever little nut cups that held gumpod blossoms.

Attractive prizes had been chosen by the hostesses for the occasion and on the first day the fortunate addressees of high scores were Mrs. Douglas Packard and Mrs. George Baker while Mrs. C. C. Carver and Mrs. W. B. Williams were high yesterday.

Mrs. Roy King and Mrs. Mary Farrar of Los Angeles were convicts.

Santa Ana Woman, to Leave For East, Is Honored

Mrs. M. M. Waite of this city who is to leave soon for St. Petersburg, Fla., to visit her daughter, was complimented at a farewell party held for her Wednesday by Mrs. Oakley Waite of Fullerton.

Following an afternoon of chat and music, Mrs. Waite was presented with a smart leather letter case.

At the tea hour dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. Those enjoying the affair were Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Humphrey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Robinson, Mrs. J. F. Doyle, Mrs. J. L. Stephenson, and Miss Marjorie Lusk.

Erickson Home Setting For All Day Meeting

The hospitable home of Mrs. Elizabeth Erickson of 1041 West Sixth street was opened yesterday to members of the Flying Needle club who gathered there for an all day meeting.

Following a morning devoted to sewing, a delicious baked fish luncheon was served by the hostess. The afternoon hours were spent in fancy work and chery conversation. A guessing contest that was a feature of the afternoon, was won by Miss Eva Wheeler.

May Day Delightful Time for Pretty Affair

May day with its flowers and pretty May baskets, provided a delightful time for Mrs. William C. Watkins of 1342 North Ross street, to entertain the past noble grands of Sycamore Rebekah lodge, and White Gables, her spacious home, never presented a more attractive aspect than on this occasion.

Guests assembled for an afternoon of bridge, but the charm of the garden, with its wall fountain and pools, its wealth of flowers and shady walks, was of first importance. However, as card tables had been arranged in the big white sunroom, the players had the pleasure of gazing out on the garden's charms as they gave their attention to bridge.

Mrs. Vada Pankey was co-hostess with Mrs. Watkins, and assisting them in their pleasant duties was Mrs. William Kesemann. These duties included taking the scores and presenting the pretty gifts chosen for prize awards. Mrs. Paul Carnahan, Mrs. J. W. Norton, and Mrs. Francis Goepfer of Balboa were thus complimented. Special door and guest prizes were presented Mrs. W. O. Hill, Miss Jane Jackson and Mrs. A. W. Getchell.

The May day idea was stressed at the tea hour, when guests were served the appetizing dainties in baskets from which fluttered gay garlands in Rebekah colors of pink and green. Pink and green were also used in wrappings and ribbons for the prizes.

Those asked to enjoy the happy hospitality of Mrs. Watkins and Mrs. Pankey included Mesdames William Kesemann, W. J. Gould, A. W. Getchell, C. E. Jackson, Edward W. ### LAGUNA BOARD ASKS BIDS ON ROAD PROJECT

LAGUNA BEACH, May 3.—With no protests made on the Sleepy Hollow lane improvement and acquisition project, the city council adopted a resolution calling for bids at its meeting Wednesday evening. The street is one cut through to give access to certain ocean front lots and has been under consideration for many months. It is put through under the Mattoon act and there are 87 defendants in the case.

Discussion of the proposition of the state to furnish 210 feet of 18-inch concrete pipe for a Ruby street storm drain left the matter undecided. A committee of Councilmen Riddell and Lippincott and City Engineer A. J. Stead will see if property owners will agree on the purchase of 140 more feet of pipe to make the drainage scheme feasible. Diversion of storm waters from their natural channel with consequent damage, the change due to putting through the coast road, brings the state into the matter, and it is the proposition of the state authorities to deliver the drainage pipe on the ground as a means of making amends, though responsibility in the matter is not admitted.

El Paseo de Laguna, the little street with the long name, subject of many a controversy before the council, was again up for decision. Plans and specifications were drawn by the engineer under instructions from the council. Three factions have aired their ideas before the council previously, and the street has been asked under two improvement acts. It is only one block in length, but extends along the rear of ocean front lots and it is expected by property owners that in time it may become an important business thoroughfare.

City Attorney Moresby White was formally made city prosecutor and it was reported that Justice of the Peace C. C. Cravat might move his office in to the police station. He resides in the latter as police judge once or twice a week.

Possibility of more complications in the street renaming project was seen in the police and firemen's proposal that streets be numbered instead of named after artists, as has been proposed. The matter was turned over to Police and Fire commissioner R. D. Lippincott to take up with the street renaming committee, which consists of John Jehle, Dr. F. E. Callister, William A. Griffith and C. Hartwell Smith.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tinymites decided they had best be on their merry way. Said Scouty, "There's no need to hang around here any more. Our cabin's smashed. The boards are loose. No more is it of any use. Let's look around this island. Some new thrills may be in store." Then Clowny snapped, "Well, I don't know if it is safe for us to go. We've never seen this place before and do not know what's here. Perhaps the folks who own this place will give us all a thrilling chase, but if the island's vacant there's no need to fear." The Goofygoos then spoke. Said he, "Say, if you leave the plans to me, I'll lead you on in safety. I am sure 'twill be all right. If we meet folks who do not like our being here, we'll quickly hike away. Now let's get started ere the day drifts into night."

So, off they trudged, all hand in hand to look around the new-found land. The Goofygoos was in the lead. He didn't seem to mind. It wasn't long till Coppy said, "I'm getting dizzy in the head. I guess it's 'cause I'm hungry. Some good food we ought to find." "Oh, look!" cried Clowny, "In that tree, the home of honey bees I see." Poor Clowny didn't know it was a hornet's nest instead. "Let's knock it down," he loudly cried. "We may find honey stored inside. And honey's good. I've often had it on a slice of bread."

Then Clowny found a stick nearby, and grabbing it he shouted, "I will jar the thing until it falls, and then 'twill be our own." They all were for this novel plan. "Scouty," he exclaimed, "I can see where we might find trouble. Why not leave that thing alone?"

(The Tinymites come to grief in the next story.)

EVENING SALUTATION

"It is better to be acclaimed than to have riches. Friendship is one of the greatest things in life."

EXPANSIVE BENEFITS

We wonder sometimes if the people of the city appreciate what the "builders" are doing for them. When they learn that some people are working for a factory or other people are erecting a large and substantial business block they are prone to think that it is simply a matter of investment for the ones so working and it does not mean much if anything to other citizens. This is far from the truth. When a new $300,000 building is added to the business blocks of our city, such as is being done by the Main Investment Syndicate of which J. C. Horton is the head, the benefits are distributed all along the line.

It aids in the total tax valuation of the city. This means either a lowering of the taxes for all citizens, with the same conveniences, or an increase in the number of conveniences which the city can furnish to its people. It means an attractiveness and a service by the occupants of the building which draws those seeking homes to find them in our city.

This kind of an institution, plus the manufacturing, adds directly, and very greatly therefore, to the population of the city, and population alone may be interpreted in terms of recreational and cultural advantages. Theater troupes, opera companies, soloists, lecturers, leading men and women in all walks of life who furnish entertainment, inspiration, information or instruction, determine to a very large degree their places of visit by the population of the city and if we can bring them to our door by added values in the city it is infinitely better than the necessity we are now under frequently of making a long journey to our great metropolis for the purpose of taking advantage of such benefits.

More than this, the faith that men of means evince in the city leads others also to determine the doubt in favor of our city. We are just now a favored people. We are a selected spot. The merchants and realtors, the professional men, and the workers, the Chamber of Commerce and the service clubs; our educational institutions and our churches all are interested and benefited, because these institutions exist only for people, and the people are receiving the advantages.

A Columbia professor says the alarm clock is a shock to the nervous system. It is also a slight shock to some people suddenly to be out of a job.

ADVERTISING HONESTLY

From time to time we have discussed the question of honesty in advertising. It is emphasized by advertising agencies, and by merchants generally. It has a peculiar application just now to the manner in which the government is cancelling stamps. For some time the government has been cancelling them with this: "Let's go military citizens training camp." Many individual citizens have protested against the use of this slogan and have pointed out that such a practice would do great harm to our international relations, for it spreads this slogan all over the entire world, in fact where ever our mail reaches.

Hitherto the government officers have paid no attention to these protests, but now it seems that something is liable to occur since the "Dollar" issue is injected. It seems that the Merchants' Association of New York has informed the government that its members returning from abroad bring word that "ill will" is being fostered by the slogan, and that "actual trade" is being injured because of the belief that there is a growing spirit of militarism in the United States.

Now here is the singular part of it: the Merchants' Association suggests to the government not to eliminate the stamp but to cut out the word "military" and have it read "Let's Go Citizens Training Camp." That would not change the military aspect for the citizen, but it would make foreign people who note the stamp believe that we operate a different kind of camp than we are conducting. It is a blind, and in such a manner they would endeavor to deceive those who are not entirely familiar with all the facts. Whether one is in favor of the citizens military camp or not, we believe all should favor the truth about what we are up to. If there is anything about it that we are ashamed of, we should eliminate it. Of course we consider that it would be much finer if there were a cancellation stamp used by the government: "Let's go citizens good will camp" or words to that effect.

Reading and study aren't the only ways for a man to acquire a vocabulary. He can marry one.

GOOD PREACHING

It was good "stuff" that Bishop Paul Jones, secretary of the Fellowship of Reconciliation "handed out" to the college people Wednesday and they were privileged to hear him.

Bishop Jones is a quiet, unassuming man whose sincerity has a great appeal. He practices what he preaches and it has not always been easy for him. Some among those who heard him tell of his experiences were touched and thrilled in a way which will influence their whole lives.

Among other things, Bishop Jones seeks to take the patronage out of helpfulness. A reaching down, he says, has been the principal form of altruism. It should be characterized by brotherliness—a sharing. It would be well if all of us could remember the teaching of a college philosophy professor who, when an old and learned man, said there was no one who could not teach him something, however humble the teacher might be. Every individual is worth knowing.

Ziegfeld says well-rounded lines are to be stylish again. Evidently a survival of the fittest.

"CHILD MARRIAGES" IN ITALY

Since the age of minority in nearly all of the states of the union is 18 for girls and 21 for boys, it is interesting to note that Premier Mussolini, the Czar of Italy, has lowered the age for marriage to 16 for the husband and 14 for the wife. We have frequently been stirred by the stories of the atrocious child marriages of India. India, it seems, it soon to have a rival.

THE BOOK-OF-THE-MONTH CLUB

There is a merry row on between some of the publishers and the Book-of-the-Month club. The Frederick Stokes Company and the Dutton Company have announced that they will send no more of their publications for examination to the club. The row has come about because the publishers feel that in the Book-of-the-Month club there is a danger of favoritism or of incapacity to estimate from the mass of publications of the month those which are pre-eminent. Those authors which have been fortunate enough to get on the list of the club naturally have no complaint. Such a selection puts their book among the best sellers.

The whole matter has become a very vital one in the literary world, and unless some understanding can be reached between the publishers and the managers of the club, we can see the end of the club. To some extent this would be a matter of regret. Among the mass of publications it is difficult for the public to choose wisely, and here was a way in which the reading of the public could be guided. While the managers of the Book-of-the-Month club have made a good profit, there is nothing to indicate that their decision has been influenced by ledger accounts. Still there is a danger that there might be. It is to be hoped that some arrangement can be made between publishers and the club. There is a place for such an organization. Yet it is easy to see the publisher's point of view in the matter.

Incidentally, it may be noted that Mr. Charles Boni, of the publishing firm of A. & C. Boni, is to start a private venture by which he will select a book of merit each month and supply it in paper covers. The judges will select the book from the lists of all publishers. In this way the best books will be furnished much more cheaply than they are at present. This project is similar to the one now fostered by the Book League of America which has already printed several meritorious selections in paper-bound magazine form.

A Task For Rotary

The Rotary Wheelbarrow

Almost unbelievable is the reported opposition in some of the coast cities to the Orange County program of flood control and water conservation. Unbelievable, because water is a vital necessity of all people and all sections, and because the conservation of our water supply is as important to the beach dweller as to the plainsman or the mountaineer.

Beaches, cities, ranches, all alike depend for the continuance of their prosperity on the assurance of a safe, permanent and adequate water supply. Without an adequate supply of water, the cities of the beach will be on their way to join the other "ghost" cities of California's deserts. Without a prosperous and populous hinterland, the playgrounds of the coast will have little patronage or possibility of growth. Water is the life of our entire county, and of no particular section more than another.

Our engineers have shown clearly that we have reached the danger line, if, indeed, we have not gone past it, and that further delay will be calamitous. Cities and ranches will share alike in this disaster, if water fails.

Published reports indicate that the people of the beach districts are ruffled because the inland portions of the County have not given support to the harbor improvement project. It seems hardly possible that citizens can be so short-sighted as to permit their displeasure over that matter to stand in the way of a move which is hardly less than an emergency measure.

If the water project is defeated by the opposition of the people on the coast, then we may as well say farewell to both harbor and water projects until a new generation arises, which may have better judgment than the present one, for it is certain that if flood control is defeated by one section of the county, the harbor project will be just as cheerfully knifed by the other section when it comes up.

On the other hand, if the beach cities will swing into line on water conservation, there is every reason to believe that the inland population will return the compliment when the time comes to build a harbor. We need harbor improvements, but we simply have got to have water. The ocean will stay right where it is for many years to come but the harbor will be worth mighty little if the fresh water supply runs out.

Here is a situation which challenges our service clubs, whose task is to promote friendship and mutual understanding. Here is our chance to bring about a relationship of sympathy, respect, and friendship between Beach and Ranch, between Coast and Country. If all the Rotary clubs in the county can get together and talk it over, it will help. If all the Lions, Kiwanis, Round Table, Exchange and other service clubs in Orange County will unite in an effort to arrive at a right understanding, it can be carried through. Friendship can be built, suspicions allayed, and the way paved for progress to prosperity.

Orange County has suffered too much from sectional jealousies, unfounded suspicions, unfriendly competition, in the past. United, we can go ahead to better days than any of us have dared to imagine. Fighting among ourselves, we can watch Long Beach and Los Angeles and other less favored cities go on to the greatness which is ours if we will take it.

When your house is on fire, you do not bargain with the Fire Department as to the cost of extinguishing the blaze, nor do your neighbors remember that they hate you. They all turn in and help to fight the fire.

Now is the time for us all to forget our hatreds, if we have any, and work with united purpose for the future of our county.

Here is a grand chance for Rotary and its fellow service clubs to justify themselves by one great and compelling campaign for civic unity, which shall eliminate the destructive, divisive elements, and promote the spirit of loyal co-operation in the greatest project we have ever undertaken.

At It Again

Oakland Tribune

When this special session of Congress convened there was loud applause as Speaker Longworth spoke for a program which would give strict attention to the few items at hand. Farm relief, the tariff, reapportionment and the census, he said were the problems needing solution and the purpose should be to refrain from cluttering the calendar with other bills.

When the applause had subsided, the members began introducing bills. They are at it now. That which is favored theoretically falls before the pressure of practical politics. Probably most of these bills are born to flush unseemly but they are introduced and someone, somewhere, should be satisfied.

In the meantime the House makes progress with the farm relief measure while the Senate makes politics of it.

FUTILE SAVING

I am glad I was born in this time-saving age

When trolleys and subways and trains

Enable me longer each day to engage

In the arduous use of my brains.

Many hours, that I spent when I journeyed afoot—

Provided I feel so inclined—

In these days of swift transit, can always be put

To the task of improving my mind.

Every minute I save is now readily usable

And I know that to waste them is quite inexcusable.

I have saved, I suppose, about twenty-four years

By riding to work every day

But in spite of this palpable gain there appears

To be little increase in my pay.

Efficiency experts, by systems they know

Have added more years to my time

But the money result, I confess, doesn't show

To the meager extent of a dime.

When I think of the time that improvements have won for me

I cannot help wondering just what it's done for me.

My grandfather worked from the dawn's early light

Till the cows tolled their homecoming chimes

And then read the papers far into the night

For he had to keep up with the times.

No motorized tools cut his labors in two

As he toiled o'er the plough furrowed lea,

He had no electrical jiggers to do

The work they are doing for me.

Ah! that time I've been saved! And yet what have I done with it?

Well nothing at all; except to have fun with it!

Henry Ford's High Wage Policy

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

NOTE.—The plan for stabilized prosperity endorsed by President Hoover and which is an important part of his program was perfected by the authors of this series. That plan will be the theme of these articles, and each article will be a step along the path toward understanding and keeping that prosperity.

Henry Ford certainly has helped to make the present great era of prosperity. He has helped largely by practicing the sound policy of high wages, low prices, and mass production.

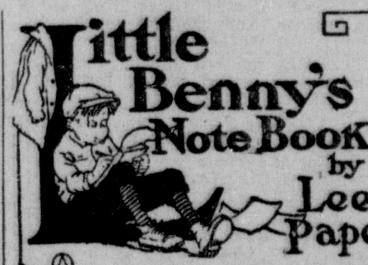

Thus he has done much to change the attitude of the business world toward wages. Formerly, employers were always talking about the necessity for reducing wages. Now they talk about the necessity for reducing unit costs—not wages. Mr. Ford has helped them to see that it is bad business to destroy customers by reducing their purchasing power.

There is no doubt that business men know more about the relation of consumer income to their own success than they knew in 1921. At that time, in the midst of depression, they were determined to make matters worse by deflating wages in general. Fortunately, their program was successfully resisted by labor.

Reduction of the general level of wages, as Mr. Ford has always insisted, is not a cure for hard times. On the contrary, it does more than anything else to prolong hard times. Employers, in their own interests, should pay as high wages as they can pay, and still expand their business on a sound basis. Mr. Ford is right: "The best wages that have ever been paid are not nearly as high as they ought to be."

Thoughts On Modern Life

By Glenn Frank

THE LITTLE ARMY OF LIGHT
We moderns think in numbers. Our armies muster millions into service. The religion of merger is giving us larger and larger industrial and financial units. And back of all this movement towards bigness is science. Science has produced the modern armies with their mighty guns and millions of men. Science has made possible our gigantic industries. And yet the scientists are a very little army. In the United States, the National Academy of Sciences has less than three hundred members. There are less than 10,000 names in the edition of American Men of Science that lies on my desk as I write. The American Association for the Advancement of Science has a membership of only about 12,000 out of a population of some 120,000,000. It has been estimated that the advancement of science is, throughout the world, dependent upon the brains of less than 100,000 scientific workers. 100,000 persons would make a third-class American city. It is interesting to realize that, if we could assemble the 100,000 scientific workers upon whom the future of modern science depends in a single third-class city and burn it to the ground, virtually the whole of modern progress would come to a standstill. The army of light is so small that it behooves us to guard its members well. And yet we grumble about taxes that go to support research in governmental and university laboratories. It is at least more profitable to be a Charles Chaplin than to be a Charles Darwin. We look after a Babe Ruth with more care than we bestow upon an Einstein. Happy the university, happy the city, happy the state, happy the nation that harbors a great scientist. Let's look after our little army of light. Copyright 1929 McClure Newspaper Syndicate

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

THE SHY CHILD

A shy child suffers untold misery. When a stranger comes to the house the child longs to hide himself. To enter the room where he is and greet him is a matter of such terror that he has scarcely the power to scurry away fast enough. Fear turns his blood to water in his veins. Mothers of timid children are anxious to cure them of their fears. They coax and threaten, smile and frown, all in vain. The shy child gets behind mother, hides behind the door, gets under the bed or snuggles in the dark corner of the closet, anything to keep out of the way.

Just what caused the fear is difficult to discover. All we know most of the time is that the child is afraid. Talking won't do any good. We have to help the child gain confidence in the people about him. Only when he feels himself safe will he be brave. That strength comes by experience. But how can one give a child who is so afraid, those experiences with people that will give him confidence in himself? We cannot force them upon him. We can get him to meet people by indirect means. If a child can be helped to forget himself and think about something and somebody else, he will lose his fear. It is only when he thinks about himself and his helplessness that he is afraid.

When a visitor comes we let the shy child remain out of sight if he wishes. We never ask him to speak to the guest. By and by we let him carry something to the visitor. Perhaps it is a plate of sweets, or a cup on a tray. Or it may be he is willing to show the visitor his favorite toy, or his pet, or his bit of garden. Anything that helps him send his thought away from himself to the other person will help him. It always helps the shy child to carry a message if he has something to carry in his hand. "Mother sends you this book." "That is me when I was a little girl." "Here." This last may be all he can say as he thrusts the object he carries into the hands of the guest. But be thankful for that and make the most of it.

Make the most of anything a shy child does. Praise him for every thing that you dare praise. The more self-confident he becomes the less his shyness will bother him. Do not spare your encouragement and praise. Let him hear you tell grandmother how pleased you were with his last report. When he is listening to you slip in a good word about him to father. The knowledge that he is held in high esteem wonderfully strengthens a shy child. The less schooling, the less disapproval of any sort the better. It is a feeling of helplessness, of being at a disadvantage, that makes a child timid. Remove that feeling and you have cured the shyness for good and all. Force won't do it but love will. ## WASHINGTON CHARTERED

One hundred and twenty-seven years ago today Washington, D. C., was incorporated as a city by an act of congress. Its charter provided for a mayor to be appointed annually by the president of the United States and for a council consisting of two houses. This form of government, with a few minor changes, remained in force until 1871, when congress revoked this charter and established territorial government throughout the whole of the District of Columbia. This act of 1871 took the ballot away from the citizens of the capital and that feature has been the source of much controversy since.

Tradition says that the site of the city was marked by George Washington when, as a young surveyor, he was scouting the surrounding country. At all events, Washington, assisted by an advisory commission, chose the site in later years. President Washington seldom referred to the city in conversation by the name which had been given it as a tribute to him. Instead, he usually called it "the Federal City."

STATE CROPS
LATE DUE TO COLD WEATHER

BY MAXWELL POLLARD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Special to The Register)

SACRAMENTO, May 3.—Hindered by an unfavorable growing season, California will be from 10 to 15 days late this year in spring vegetables crop shipments, according to E. E. Kaufman, statistician of the state department of agriculture.

Dry and cold weather during the month of February and March retarded the growth and maturing of the principal crops, and frosts in early April have materially reduced the yields on early potatoes, peas, string beans, asparagus, cauliflower and spinach Kaufman reported.

Lettuce shipments should increase steadily with the peak of the movement expected May 10 to 15. Carrot shipments will increase in practically all sections of the state, while cauliflower will gain slightly during the next two weeks. The movement of spring peas will be general in the coastal districts and should be particularly heavy in the Hayward-San Jose section this week. Bermuda onions will start moving from the Coachella valley late this week. Express shipments of Imperial valley tomatoes may be expected this week with a car movement shortly thereafter.

A general summary of Kaufman's report follows:

Spring lettuce—The quality of the early maturing is poor and yields will be light. The movement is under way in the San Fernando valley. Salinas-Watsonville lettuce is starting out with small sizes and the crop is showing the effect of aphid infestation as well as tip burn and frost damage.

Early potatoes approximately 75 per cent of the crop in Los Angeles, Riverside, San Bernardino and Orange counties was hit by the frosts of early April. While the plants are developing new top growth a 15 to 20 per cent loss in production is expected. Kern county suffered a 25 per cent loss in production due to the frost.

Spring peas—The Imperial valley harvest is practically over. Shipments should remain steady with five to six cars daily. The crop in the Salinas valley was hit by frost and is about 60 per cent of normal.

Cantaloupes (Imperial)—Shipments will start about May 15, crown set on the covered acreage is light, due to continued winds and cold weather during the blossom period. Shipments will increase steadily from the start until the second week in June when the peak movement is expected.

Cantaloupes (San Joaquin valley)—Planting has been retarded in the Modesto section due to cool weather. Frost killed a small percentage and a good many fields were replanted due to seed rotting in the ground.

Bermuda onions—Early fields are showing about 50 per cent seed stems and the quality of the first shipments, to start this week, will be poor. Yields are expected to be normal, but in the event of warm weather early maturing may cut down the bulb growth and reduce the yields.

Early tomatoes—Picking should start on the 1400-acre Imperial valley crop early this month, with a normal production expected.

Spring carrots—An improvement in color and market conditions during the past week is reported and shipments are expected to increase. Practically all districts have delayed shipments in the hope that better prices could be obtained.

Spring carrots—An improvement in color and market conditions during the past week is reported and shipments are expected to increase. Practically all districts have delayed shipments in the hope that better prices could be obtained.

Planting has been retarded in the Modesto section due to cool weather. Frost killed a small percentage and a good many fields were replanted due to seed rotting in the ground.

Bermuda onions—Early fields are showing about 50 per cent seed stems and the quality of the first shipments, to start this week, will be poor. Yields are expected to be normal, but in the event of warm weather early maturing may cut down the bulb growth and reduce the yields.

Early tomatoes—Picking should start on the 1400-acre Imperial valley crop early this month, with a normal production expected.

POLKA DOTS POPULAR

A Parisian pajama lounging suit dots its way to chic this spring, so popular is the polka dot theme. An original suit from Drecoll-Beer subtly introduces the motif in a stunning manner.

Two shades of pink, the most feminine color in the world after all, contrast with black satin in this lounging suit.

The tapering black trousers are devoid of any trim. They are lightened considerably by the pink slippers worn with them.

The coat of the paler shade of pink satin carries the trimming for the whole suit. A deeper pink joins both bold and silver dots to richly embroidered border to the coat and cuffs that extend almost to the elbow.

Stripes of gold and silver, on black, edge it. The gleaming coat is tailored very smartly, with a simple shawl collar.

NEW YORK CURB

By RICHARD L. GRIDLEY
NEW YORK, May 3.—(UP)—In one of the most buoyant seasons since the start of the year, curb stocks moved ahead aggressively today on a greatly increased turnover. Overnight retreating of the local bank rate at five per cent and the only small increase of $40,000,000 in the Federal reserve coverage loan completion in the week ended May 1 served to restore speculative confidence. The stock exchange brokerage loan report for April was also construed as bullish.

Trading reached large proportions and orders poured into the market from all parts of the country in an increasing stream. In addition, shorts were apprehensive over the impressive action of the general market and pools found the time auspicious for resuming operations.

Electric investors as the outstanding feature of strength, holding the greater part of its opening gain of 95% points.

NOISE KILLER
LONDON, May 3.—The seagrass zostera marina, when dried, has the quality of deadening noises. For this reason it is used extensively as an insulator in houses. It also is a poor conductor of heat and cold.

Light rays, X-rays, heat rays and wireless rays all travel at the same speed but vary in length.

BONDS

By OTTO E. STURM
NEW YORK, April 3.—(UP)—Continued large scale buying of convertibles featured trading on the bond market today. Expectations of further ease in the money market brought firmness to United States government securities, while a steady tone was displayed by the domestic general list.

Foreign obligations worked higher under the leadership of Italian convertibles.

American International 5 1/2s, American L. G. Chemical 5 1/2s, International Telephone 4 1/2s and American Telephone and Telegraph 4 1/2s occupied the center of interest, all being bid up from attraction to a point on a turnover that furnished about one third of all sales.
